

During the Fall Shane Dennis, the developer of SpEd Forms, conducts teacher training and support groups open to anyone who uses SpEd Forms.

Teacher trainings are intended for case managers and student support staff. The three hour sessions help new educators get started using SpEd Forms. The training is also open to experienced teachers who would like an opportunity to ask questions, provide feedback and learn about newer features.

Support groups are intended for Special Education administrators and support staff to provide an opportunity to learn the reasoning behind changes to SpEd Forms, share experiences and ask questions. Shane brings an up-to-date list of talking points and always leaves with a healthy list of suggestions!
